$320,000 CLEARED IN MAY COTTON

BIG PROFITS FOR BULLS, WHO HAVE MANIPULATED MAY COTTON.

PINCH PREDICTED IN JULY

123,500 Bales Taken Over in Deals.
Patten's Profits $160,000.

New York, April 30.—Profits very near $320,000 were shown today by careful calculation of the work of James A. Patten of Chicago and his associates in the great bull clique which has manipulated May cotton almost to the exclusion of everyone else, and victorious in deals for 200,000 bales, is now turning its attention to buying all of July cotton that is offered.

Patten's Profits $160,000.

Mr. Patten is believed to have carried in his own name about one-half of the May cotton handled by the bull crowd, and his individual profits were estimated today at approximately $160,000. The cotton was taken over at 14.50c, and today the price had risen to 14.82c, the closing price for May on the exchange.

The buying of July cotton by the bull crowd gave the shorts a shiver and the price for July was driven up from 14.61c when Patten and his associates began to buy, to 14.65 at the close of the market.

Pinch Predicted in July.

It was predicted in Wall street that the real pinch in cotton would be felt in July and the shorts were more and better than merely selling goods, and taking the money for them. We know that's the idea generally held about a business; often by the men who are conducting it; simply the exchange of money for merchandise.

Now our idea of it is different; we're here to see that you not only get something for your money, but to see that it's what you ought to get for it; to protect your interest in the matter of value. More than that we want to be of service to you in a different way than simply selling you goods.

We're here to provide what you want, and to help you get what you ought to want. We're here to see that what we sell you satisfies you; that the quality of our merchandise is right, and that you think it's right. We guarantee satisfaction, which means a good deal if you think it over; we mean by it as much as you think it means.

Now you see perhaps, why we sell

FLOOD FEARED AT EL PASO

Rio Grande Situation Becoming Serious—Big Rise Coming—Preparations Made.

El Paso, Tex., April 30.—The river situation is fast becoming serious. The government observer reports 9, 000 second feet coming down at Selden, an increase of 6,000 feet. The stage here is already over 14 feet, and when the flood coming down reaches here it will raise it away above the danger line. Precautions are being taken here and down the valley against the flood.

making every effort to cover. The big four who are taking over the cotton are, besides Mr. Patten, Eugene Scales of Texas, William P. Brown and Frank Hayne of New Orleans. Mr. Hayne and Mr. Brown started the buying of July cotton at the opening of the cotton market today.

Disposition Is Serious Problem.

The way the street figures it is that the only question with which the bull crowd will have to deal at this time is how to get rid of the thousands of bales of May cotton purchased. About 50,000 bales were ordered shipped from New York warehouses yesterday, 40,000 South and 10,000 to Fall River mills. Today Mr. Patten announced that he had made arrangements to ship 45,000 bales to Great Britain at once, and he said that he expected the remaining 100,000 bales would be taken over by American and foreign spinners.

"They should have no difficulty getting hold of the cotton at a fair price," said Mr. Patten.

The charges on carrying the immense supplies of cotton amount to nearly $3,000 daily, and for this reason alone the bull clique will endeavor to dispose of their holdings at the earliest moment. These charges will be reduced from May 1, however, in view of the cotton already disposed of by Mr. Patten and his associates.

Purchased 183,500 Bales.

Reports by brokers show that a total of 183,500 bales of cotton were taken over by the Patten crowd. Carpenter, Baggott & Co., where Mr. Scales operates, took 50,000 bales; Bache & Co., Mr. Patten's headquarters, 40,000; Lipper & Co., 47,000. Swanson & Co., 25,000; Springs & Co., 10,000, and Hopkins, Knight & Co., 11,500. These firms are known as the principal brokers in the present operations of the pool.

Mr. Patten said today that he believed the new crop in October would prove shorter than had been anticipated.

Birthday Party.

Inez, the little niece of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Crowder gave to 21 of her little friends last Saturday evening a birthday party it being her tenth birthday. Her aunts, Mrs. J. C. Luster, of Davis, and Miss Elgh Fischer assisted in entertaining. The little guests came at 4 o'clock and played games until 5 when dainty refreshments were served in the spacious dining room. The decorations were roses and ferns. They then returned to the lawn where games were played until 6 o'clock when they took their departure saying they had a very pleasant time and wishing Inez would soon have another party. Many beautiful presents were received.

FORMER PRES. OF HAITI DEAD REFUGEE SINCE 1908

Kingston, Jamaica, May 1.—Nord
Alexis, former president of Haiti, died here today. His death occurred at 8 o'clock in the morning following a brief illness. His health, however, had been considerably broken by the experience of the last year and a half after he was deposed and sent into exile. He was a refugee here since the revolution of 1908,
and was possessed of considerable property in Kingston.

KANSAS CITY BOOSTERS WELL PLEASED WITH OKLA.

Like the Push and Elasticity of Oklahoma Citizenship and the Civic Pride.

Oklahoma City, May 1.—Oklahoma
City did itself proud in its entertainment of the Kansas City, Mo., trades excursionists Wednesday, according to reports the Kansas City Star representative sent his paper. Following is an article published by the Star of the two hours' visit in Oklahoma City.

"Oklahoma City, the metropolis and commercial center of a great state, wonderfully located and running over with opportunities, entertained the Kansas City Commercial club delegation for two hours this morning.

"Twenty-one years ago it was a water tank station; today it claims a population of 60,000 and leads all cities in the United States in the percentage of building operations.
Several skyscrapers are completed and there are under way several office buildings, a ten-story hotel, a modern newspaper office and two big packing houses. The city has ninety miles of paved streets, several parks, driveways and boulevards.

Many Wideawake Newspapers There.
"The Daily Oklahoman, the big
morning paper of the city and state,
is now in its new skyscraper. The two afternoon papers, the Times and the News, are equipped with thoroughly modern offices. Oklahoma City is proud of its newspapers, to which is due much of the credit of exploiting the opportunities of the city. In Muskogee, Tulsa, Sapulpa and Shawnee splendid daily morning and afternoon newspapers are published. The papers are prosperous and progressive.

"The Kansas City visitors were given a motor ride through the business and residence districts of Oklahoma City this morning. Practically everything is new, clean and attractive, and there isn't any city built on more modern lines. Residence additions have been platted as far as twelve miles out from the city limits. Oklahoma City is in the race for the location of the state capital and offers to build a railroad, more than one hundred miles long, tapping a new and undeveloped territory if made the seat of state government.

Cities Believe in Civic Adornment
"One thing very noticeable about the cities in Oklahoma is that they are not afraid to spend money for public improvements, such as paving
the streets, beautifying the parks,
the public schools, sewers and water plants. The people say they are profiting by the experiences of Kansas City, that the best way to keep the cities growing is to keep beautifying them.

"The Kansas City special train passed through some of the richest agricultural sections of the state to-
day. The towns of Wheatland, Mustang, Tuttle and Chickasha were visited this morning. Tuttle has grown to be a town of 1,500 people;
Chickasha is one of those modern,
progressive cities which in a few years has grown from a village to a real city. It has a population of 15,000, and the per cent of increase is very large. The visitors spent more than an hour there and they saw the signs of progressiveness, prosperity and push so much in evidence in the other cities visited on this trip."

JUDGE ROBERTSON TO SPEAK AT LAWTON

Lawton, Ok., May 1.—The first candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, aside from Col. L. P.
Ross of this city, to appear before a Lawton audience in the interests of his candidacy during the present campaign will be Judge J. B. A.
Robertson of Chandler, former judge of the Tenth Judicial District, comprising Lincoln and Pottawatomie counties, who arrived here today
and who will deliver a political address in the city tomorrow night.

The Lincoln county candidate has just completed a series of meetings
in Stephens and Jefferson counties, and yesterday over the borders in Comanche a meeting was held at Temple and last night he spoke at Walter.

Recognition Is Tardy.

Guthrie, Ok., May 1.—George Morgan of Logan county is interested in the bill of Mr. McGuire to pension teamsters and wagon workers of the Civil war. These men were not enlisted, but counted as employees, but were as necessary to success as any soldier on the field. "I want to see a state organization of these men,"
said Morgan, and would like to hear from some of them on this subject.

PAROLE RECOMMENDED FOR BOOT-LEGGERS

Out on Good Behavior Tends to Restrain the Law Breakers.

Oklahoma City, May 1.—"We find
the policy of parole to convicted bootleggers the most effective means
of driving them out of the business," said Superintendent G. D. Conger of the Oklahoma Anti-Saloon league
Saturday. "The aim of our organization is to suppress the sale of liquor. The means most effective in doing this is the one we propose to employ. And we believe parole accomplishes what the serving of the jail sentence, relief from which the parole is granted, will not."

Most of the sentences to convicted bootleggers of recent weeks have been a combination of fine and imprisonment. According to the idea of Superintendent Conger, the paying of the fine and the serving of the sentence leaves the convicted one, after all is through, open again
to start in his bootlegging business.

In the case of parole, on the other hand, the fine is paid, but the convicted one is allowed to go free upon the considerations provided by the parole. Rather than serve the jail sentence the bootlegger who is out on parole invariably will go into other business. Thereby the suppression which is the aim of the league is brought about.

"Besides," said Mr. Conger, "the parole imposes obligations more than keeping away from the liquor trade.
It makes the convicted one subject to arrest and the serving of the sentence which hangs over him on any breach of the law. If he is brought to police court, or if he is charged with misdemeanor of any kind, or in any way violates the statutes of the state, immediately he is liable,
and may be made to serve his sentence. If he keeps from jail, he must be a good citizen."

Paroles are granted by the governor upon recommendation from the county attorney from whose district
the sentence was made, from the county or superior judge in whose court the case was tried, and from the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league. Complaint that the one to whom the parole is granted is not living up to the provisions of the parole immediately bring forth its recall, and the re-arrest of the one who is out on good behavior.

"Our efforts in the last few weeks have been directed chiefly at the shippers, the ones who are the foundation of the bootlegging business," said Mr. Conger. "Without the shipper, liquor selling cannot go on.
Ned Melton and Lee Smith, the shipping firm of Melton and Smith, were fined and given jail sentences last week. These men, paroled, must keep away from the shipping business forever, or be subject to their jail penalty. Their case is only typical."

PATHFINDER AT LAWTON

Route Picked Now to Be the National Route for Years to Come.

Lawton, Ok., April 30.—Traveling
129 miles today, the Chalmers-Detroit official pathfinder of the 1910 Golden tour, under command of Dai H. Lewis, reached Lawton at 7 o'clock and tied up for the night.

The sixty miles on the Oklahoma side of the Red River was covered at times at forty miles an hour. The car was met at Bowie, Tex., by five cars from Lawton, Oklahoma City, Chickasha and El Reno. Tomorrow
the pathfinder will go to Oklahoma
City through Fort Sill, Anadarko, Chickasha and El Reno. Chickasha was placed on the route tonight, making the distance from Lawton to Oklahoma City nearly 150 miles, a good day's run. E. L. Ferguson of the American Automobile association and Mr. Lewis held a conference late tonight and agreed to make Lawton an all-night stop on the way northward. They will leave Dallas, 200 miles to the south, in the morning. Mr. Ferguson said tonight that the route picked out now would be the national route for many years to come.

Lewis declares that Oklahoma natural prairie roads are the best of their type ever seen by him.

TAFT'S SCHEME IS DESERTED BY ALDRICH

PROVISION FROM RAILROAD
BILL.

CRITICISES THE PRESIDENT

Regulars Censure Changes Progressives Made in Bill in House.

Washington, May 1.—Without waiting for it to be attacked in the senate further than the criticisms already offered in the Cummins-Dolliver minority report, Senator Aldrich has decided that in view of "the great criticism directed against the stock and bond feature of the Administration bill" he will agree to striking out that feature. The criticism that has been directed against this feature of the bill has been insignificant in comparison with the bitter assault that has been made in congress and over the country against Section 7, which seeks to permit pooling agreements without previous inspection or consent by the interstate commerce commission, yet, despite these intense oppositions to this proposition, Senator Aldrich insists on its adoption, whereas he,
has become keenly sensitive and responsive to the criticisms of the stock and bond features.

Much Opposition to Feature.

There has been considerable opposition to the stock and bond provisions of the bill, but largely the opposition is directed to specific provisions which could be modified. The democrats generally object to the provisions because they are so framed to deprive the states of the right to regulate the bonds and stocks of railroads, while the congressmen representing "districts" or states that need railroad development object to the feature of that provision which would require the sale of the securities at face value, but the financial interests are in opposition to the whole scheme as being an entering wedge to the broad field of federal supervision of stocks and bonds.

The opposition of the railway interests to the feature is all the stronger because the stampede in the house to the scheme of physical valuation of railroads, which is regarded as particularly objectionable in connection with the proposed federal regulation of railway stocks and bonds.

Is Taft's Scheme.

The stock and bond provisions of the Administration railway bill was not the creation of either Senator Aldrich or Attorney General Wickersham. It was a favorite scheme of President Taft's and was advocated by him in his speeches and urged
as an essential to proper rate regulation. Senator Aldrich accepted the proposition as something to be looked after when the bill got under way, and the announcement that he will not press that feature is not surprising after the temper that the house has shown in favor of drastic regulation and the further evidence that it has given that the conference report will have to be to its liking.

Friends of Senator Aldrich are seeking to fix on the Chief Executive
the responsibility for the overthrow of the stocks and bonds feature of the bill, by pointing out that the president has not acted toward the insurgents with sufficient firmness to prevent the house from breaking from control on the railway bill to the extent that it has.

President Is Criticized.

The way for the announcement of the surrender on the stock and bond feature was paved by Senator Aldrich's friends Saturday, when they obtained wide circulation of a mild criticism of President Taft for leaving Washington at this inopportune time, when he should be on hand to hold down the radical republican element in the house. Republican newspapers that have not found occasion
to take exception to a single thing done by the administration voiced this criticism, and some of the democratic newspapers were caught by this reactionary ploy, the extensive publication of which was promptly followed by the authoritative statement that Senator Aldrich, without sufficient aid from the Administration is unable to single-handed stem
the opposition to the stock and bond feature and would not insist on the adoption of the provisions. The indications are that the House, when
it reaches the feature, will reject it.

and fell before any breeze was felt.

BRYAN REQUESTED LEAV- ITT TO WED DAUGHTER

Says the Former Son-in-Law—Bryan Makes a Denial in Regard to the Boast.

Columbus, O., April 30.—William
H. Leavitt gave out today the exact details of his story of Bryan's request that he, Leavitt, pay court to the daughter Ruth.

"I was painting portraits of notable people, and wrote to Mr. Bryan to get him to sit for me. He agreed and I went to Fairview. The second day I was there I met Ruth as she was coming out of her room. She wore a white flower at her belt, I remember.

"Where are we going when we leave here?" she asked me.

"Who is we?"

"You and I; whenever you go I am going."

"The next evening Mr. Bryan came to me as we were sitting out on the porch and said that his daughter had been talking to his wife and himself and wanted to know if there were any reasons why I should not marry Ruth.

"I was a bit taken back I suppose.
I was somewhat flattered, but I managed to say that there was no reason why we should not be married. I stayed there from May to October when we were married. I have never been back.

"When we were married we went for a short visit to St. Louis and then set up housekeeping in New Orleans. There Ruth was born. While living there my wife's grandfather died and she asked me to go home.
When she returned she told me that
Mrs. Bryan had said that any time she wished to get a divorce Mrs. Bryan would help her—that she had found a fine young Englishman she would like to have her marry.

"We left New Orleans on account of yellow fever and moved to Denver at my wife's suggestion. It was there she met the man she is to marry. She can't get married any too soon to please me. I had no intention of stopping the ceremony unless that had been necessary to get possession of the children.

"Whatever she may have done that I cannot approve, I cannot forget, that she is the mother of my children but in her new life I do not care to have them associated with her."

Bryan Makes Denial.

Lincoln, Neb., April 30.—A special dispatch says: "Please say for me regarding the boast of Mr. Leavitt that I asked him to wed my daughter three days after he came into my home as an artist that I do not regard a denial of such a statement from such a man as necessary. Signed William J. Bryan."

FIRE SUNDAY MORNING; BOB EATON'S HOME BURNED

Kindled Fire With Oil—Flames Sweep Through House in a Twinkling.

Sunday morning at seven-thirty the home of Bob Eaton, on West Thirteenth street caught on fire and burned down in something less than ten minutes. The fire department responded promptly to the alarm and made a splendid run, getting to the scene in time to prevent the fire spreading to other houses near by, but not in time to save Mr. Eaton's house.

How It Started.

The family were seated at breakfast and the fire in the cook stove having run low, Mrs. Eaton endeavored to quickly rekindle the fire by using coal oil. The oil when poured into the stove instantly exploded and caught more oil with the results mentioned.

Mr. Eaton's first impulse was to smother the flames by means of blankets and quilts; so he made a dash to the upper story for blankets at the same time instructing his wife to close the doors of the kitchen so as to confine the flames as much as possible to one portion of the house. But Mrs. Eaton either to badly excited or being repelled by the angry flames failed to do so and broke for the open. Consequently by the time Mr. Eaton reached the stairway on his return trip the flames had spread to such extent that he was compelled to fly back up the stairs and leap from an upper story window to save his life.

Practically nothing escaped the devouring flames so rapid was their work. In an attempt to save a piano, Mr. Hall, a normal student who was boarding there received a severe scorching about his head and face.

The high winds then prevailing seemed to delight in sweeping the flames as high and far as possible, and for a while it seemed that all the houses in reach would be wiped out despite the efforts of the fire department, and spectators who joined in the fight. The barn on the rear of the Eaton home caught, the home on the north side of the street and opposite the fire was endangered by a burning shingle which ignited the roof, but owing to the alertness of the boys with the hose both the barn and the dwelling escaped disaster, with slight damage.

Mr. Brady's home which stands in close proximity to the Eaton place got very hot and was saved only by a copious supply of water repeatedly turned on it.

Mr. Eaton's loss is probably near the $2,500 mark, some of which is covered by insurance.

COON USES GUN SATURDAY NIGHT

Takes Shot at John Cragen—Now in Jail in Default of Making $1,000 Bond.

About 12:15 o'clock Sunday night, a shot rang out from the Texas wagon yard. Upon investigation it was found that Foster Bogen, A negro, who is in the employ of Mr. Cummings at the yard had gotten into a row with a few white boys over the price or over the amount of whiskey to be purchased and the coon took a shot at John Cragen. The coon ran off and could not be found by the sheriff's force that night but was captured by the police on Monday morning.

The police transferred him to the sheriff this morning and on being arraigned he entered a plea of not guilty and his bond was fixed at $1,000 which he failed to make and was remanded to jail to await an examining trial which was set for Tuesday, by Justice Brown.

Died.

Mrs. Mary Robinson who resided on Seventh street, North Ada, died Sunday night at eleven o'clock, aged 41 years. On last Monday she was taken ill of pneumonia and survived just one week. She leaves a grown daughter and several small children to mourn her loss. The remains will be interred at Rosedale at five o'clock this afternoon, under the auspices of the Eastern Star.

To the family and friends the News extends sympathy.

The Oil Well.

The oil well was looked into this morning and it was found that the 44 quarts of nitro-glycerine failed to shake up any oil. There will probably be a meeting of the board of directors at an early date to determine whether work will be prosecuted further or not.

THE E. C. S. N. FACULTY TERM OF 1911-12

This Press in Saturday evening's issue published a special from Guthrie purporting to state the facts relative to the names of those members of the present faculty who had been re-elected for the second year. It stated that all the old faculty had been re-elected except Miss Overstreet. Excuse is felt for the publication; for the positive assertion that such was the case, was deliberately made after 30 minutes assured attention, at the hour of 4 o'clock P. M. Saturday by John L. Mitch, secretary to the State Board of Normal Regents.

The following is the correct list as has been verified by President Briles.

Charles W. Briles, president and philosophy of education; M. L. Perkins, vice president, psychology and education; Ralph J. Brooks, physics, chemistry and agriculture; G. T. Howerton, biology, geology and geography; Rolla G. Sears, history; E. E. Mathews, mathematics; W. D. Little, English; A. L. Fentem, economics and political science; W. L. Roddie, American history; Josephine Clark, Latin; J. Frank Lilly, German and assistant English; Pearl D. McGurran, reading and public speaking; Carlotta Anderson, piano; Verna Van Werner, vocal music; Bertha Ruble, domestic science; Arche Lee Dixon, commercial branches; Kate K. Knight, critic teacher and assistant mathematician; Mary A. Montague, critic teacher; Helen A. Turner, drawing; Melissa Bills, matron; Trilla Bronner, librarian; and W. C. Cox, manual training and athletics.

While we extend a hearty welcome to the new teachers we very much regret seeing the others go and will express our regrets—and welcome in an article to follow at an early date.

HON. F. E. HERRING AT FREDERICK AND ALTUS

Makes Only Short Speeches With No Attempt to Deal at Length on State Issues.

Altus, Ok., April 30.—A special train from Elk City, carrying Hon. F. E. Herring, democratic candidate for governor; some 150 friends and admirers from Elk City, the Elk City band and about 100 followers picked up between Elk City and Altus, passed through Altus about 11 o'clock this morning, bound for Frederick, over the Wichita Falls and Northwestern road, where Mr. Herring spoke. The special returned to Altus at 4:15 p. m. and Mr. Herring delivered a speech from a platform on the public square to a crowd of several hundred. Mr. Herring explained that he was not a politician and therefore not a speechmaker. His talk was short and in it he did not attempt to take up at length the various political questions at issue in the state campaign.

BOOKS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN GOOD SHAPE

Guthrie, Okla., April 30.—The total receipts of the office of secretary of state from April 1, 1909, to March 30 1910, were $113,345.90 according to a report approved by State Examiner George Mekling. It shows that the total amount received from charter fees during the twelve months was $104,894.35, from notary fees, $4,358, and from the sale of statutes and session laws, $2,801.15. The remainder was received from the issuance of certified copies of records, placing the seal of state, requisitions, etc.

The books of the office were found in excellent shape. No account had been kept of statutes and session laws on hand and the report fixes a basis of accounting for this in the future.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS WARD GREAT SCULPTOR DEAD

New York, May 1.—John Quincy Adams Ward, one of America's great sculptors, died today at his home here, in his 80th year. He had been ill for three months. He is survived by his widow, who was at the bedside, and by a brother, Edgar Melville Ward, a painter.

The body will be sent Tuesday to Urbana, Ohio, where he was born, for interment.

Mr. Ward spent practically his entire life in New York City, having come from Ohio in his youth. He collaborated with Henry K. Brown in the famous equestrian statue of Washington in Union Square. Among his other well-known works are equestrian statues of Sheridan and Hancock in Philadelphia and in New York City the statues of The Indian Hunter, The Pilgrim, Shakespeare, all in Central Park, Henry Ward Beecher, in Borough Hall park, Brooklyn; also statues of Commodore Perry at Newport, R. I., and Israel Putnam of Hartford, Conn. Shortly before his death he completed a statue of Hancock for the Smith memorial in Philadelphia.

CRUCE DENIES ANY ALLIANCE WITH HASKELL

Outlines His Views on State Issues at Shawnee and Tecumseh.

Shawnee, Ok., April 30.—Lee Cruce candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, addressed a well-attended meeting at Tecumseh and Shawnee this afternoon and tonight. He declared he had formed no alliance with Gov. Haskell or anybody else, and if elected would take the governor's chair entirely free from promise of position or influence to any man. He declared against purchase of segregated coal and asphalt lands by the state, reiterated his stand for prohibition and for taxation of holdings of Indian citizens, and endorsed the present administration. He was given an enthusiastic reception.

HORRIBLE TORTURES IN NICARAGUA

AN APPEAL TO AMERICA DESCRIBING THE AWFUL CRUELITIES.

MEN, EVEN BOYS VICTIMS

Woman Shot By Officer Whom She Resisted Kissing Her.

Washington, May 1.—A letter written to the American consul at Managua, Nic., by Narciso Arellane, a citizen of Nicaragua, detailing incidents of cruelties in that republic, has been forwarded there to Senor Castriello representative of the Estrada forces in Washington.

In his letter Mr. Arellane says: "I think it best that you should know that these people are at their old work again. They are torturing men and even boys at Mandaimo and at Granada, whipping them, suspending them from the thumbs with cords all this to wrench out confessions from them as to who carried provisions to Calixto Talavoras guerrillas beyond Mandaimo.

Example Horrible. "I will cite as an example the case of Octavio Marence, a young man owning a ranch a few miles from Mandaimo, who was dealt two hundred lashes with sticks at midnight on the sixth of April at the jail at Granada. He is now at the penitentiary in this town (Managua) and as it is a matter of common knowledge you must have heard the story from another source.

"They have also burned property, and wrought damage to an incalculable degree, but this we will pass lightly out of mind. It is the rest I lay stress on. I am ashamed that such cruelties should be committed by men who profess to be Christians and are Nicaraguans—such ferocity is more the work of fiends than human beings.

Appeal to America.

"We wish the state department and the American public to be acquainted with these facts as it might help matters a bit. It is a real shame that such work is going on with your warships a few miles off Sorinto harbor, when just a word from Admiral Kimball would stop this devil's work. Should the admiral send another to investigate he would disclose a condition of things unparalleled even in the Congo Free State."

Under date of April 19 from Managua, a subsequent note to the American consul at Managua from Arellane states that the author has received reliable information of seventeen cases in which men have been hung up by the thumbs. He gives the names of the 17 victims and the name of one man who was shot and two who were lashed.

Another document detailing those alleged cruelties and mentioning such instances of insults to women by officers, alleging in one case that a woman was shot because she resisted a government officer who tried to kiss her, has been submitted to the state department by Senor Castriello.

GUIDE BOOK OF ETIQUETTE

Probably Compiled by One Who Has Suffered from the Bad Manners of the Human Herd.

Persons traveling on the continent will find the most economical means of travel a canoe or small Oxford punt. These are the only two places where you are not expected to keep tipping.

Having partaken of a seven-course dinner on a transatlantic steamer, it is well to remark "Punk food" sharply upon arising from the table. Otherwise the crew will think you are not used to any better at home.

Upon returning from a country boarding house where the only excitement is wondering what form the ham will take the next meal, it is well to speak of your vacation as "a delightful experience at a quaint old place close to nature." This sounds romantic and doesn't mean a thing.

Young gentlemen desiring to play stuss over Sunday in the rear of a beer saloon may allude to their absence as "a week-end spent on a duck farm."

When invited on a yachting trip always arrange to sit on the right of the main sheet. Occasionally rap the deck sharply with your heels. This will please the owner of the boat immensely. If you can arrange to tie a few knots in the main sheet, all hands will usually take a pleasant little swim before the day is over.

No picnic is complete without a young lady who thinks she sees a snake. It is not good form, however, to comment upon the bugs in the butter and the grasshopper in the pickle bottle. One must not be too literal in summer.

Those sitting on the rear seat of an automobile should always sing. Close harmony and the odor of gasoline make a very classy combination.

It is not proper for young ladies to go in bathing without a chaperon. If you have a chaperon, however, not much of anything else is necessary.

At the seashore never throw sand in a gentleman's shoes. Put it down his neck. It will get to his shoes ultimately. If he's in a hurry for some in his shoes, he can put it there himself. There is plenty of sand.

If you should find a magazine lying around at a summer hotel, carry it up into your own room immediately. If you don't the owner is almost sure to come back and take it away.

Explosion Wrought Havoc.

A terrific explosion occurred at Distington ironworks, near Workington, England, recently, causing damage estimated at £20,000, and so wrecking the place that work will be suspended for some months, throwing about 200 men out of work. Eleven gas-filled boilers are used at the works to generate steam for blowing the engines which supply the furnaces with the blast, and it is supposed that there was an explosion of gas. The report was terrific and the effect disastrous. Three of the boilers were blown into fragments, while a fourth was found in a field a considerable distance away. The boiler is reported to have flown through the air at a terrific speed, at a height of about 60 feet, "just like an aeroplane." Part of another boiler crashed into the fitters' and blacksmiths' mill, bricks and stones were shot up as high as the works chimney and then rained down on the works yard and the high road leading into the village. About 50 men, mostly fillers and pig-lifters, were working at the front and back of the blast furnaces, a hundred yards away, at the time, but they all had a remarkable escape from injury.

A Brave Man.

Former Gov. William Sprague of Rhode Island celebrated last month his seventy-ninth birthday. He is the only surviving war governor.

A reporter questioned Gov. Sprague one day at Narragansett about bravery.

"There is a finer bravery shown in civil than in military life," the veteran statesman said. "I remember one of our Providence fire chiefs.

"A green fireman resigned from the Providence service because his chief, he said, was cruel and inhuman. "How cruel and inhuman?" they asked him.

"Why," the fireman whined, 'at last week's tenement fire he ordered me to carry a section of hose right in between two walls that were just on the point of tumbling.'

"And what did you do?"

"I refused, of course. I told the chief it was as much as a man's life was worth to go in there, and I wouldn't do it."

"Well, what did the chief do then?"

"Ha, ha, ha. The crazy fool carried the hose in himself."

The Dirigible Soap-Bubble.

The catastrophe of Republique reminds me of what a French engineer and constructor, M. Gandillon, told me quite a year ago: "The weak point of all dirigible balloons is that the safety margin in every detail of their construction is too low," says a Paris letter to London Truth. "In ordinary steelwork, say a bridge, the stress put upon the rods is but a fraction of what they could really stand. In air machines, where lightness is the paramount consideration, it is necessary to cut things very fine indeed. So that if you read in the papers that the France dirigible balloon made a run to Verdun at the rate of 43 kilometers an hour, it means that at this speed all her parts were strained nearly to breaking-point, and that she would have been quite unable to make say, 45 kilometers." A dirigible balloon is still somewhat of a soap-bubble.

DIED AS HE HAD FORESEEN

Curious Premonition of Coming End That Took Possession of Connecticut Man.

A peculiar case of a man foreseeing death and inviting his friends to a farewell meeting occurred at South Norwalk, Conn., the other day. Friends of John G. Hoffman, a retired manufacturer, who lived alone, received a summons from him, saying that he would like to see them. They went to the house and found the old man awaiting them. They observed that he had swept the walks, tidied up the rooms, dusted the furniture and had everything as neat as could be. "You are all dressed up, John; what is that for?" he was asked. "Yes, I'm going on a journey," the old man replied. "I want to leave the home in good condition and look well myself, too." Then he told them he had a premonition he was going to die. He said he was not ill, but that he suddenly had become cognizant of the fact that his end was approaching swiftly. His friends became much impressed as he took a chair and settled himself in a comfortable position, meantime bidding each of them farewell. They observed that he closed his eyes and took it for granted he was wearied by the exertions of preparing the house for their reception. After ten minutes a lifelong friend stepped forward and laid his hand on the old man's shoulder. There was no response. He was dead.

CARRIES HIS OWN WELCOME

Man of Sweet Disposition Finds Friends Everywhere, While Sour One Is Shunned.

The preacher said there is no place in heaven for sour people; nor is there really any place on earth; but there are some people who too often insist upon occupying such a place. They wouldn't if they knew how little they were liked. A person may show sorrow and feel the pressure of a gloom upon his heart, but to be sour, crabbed, ill-natured, is to express a phase of disposition that is extremely distasteful, if not disgusting.

To be sour is to find fault with everybody except oneself. It is the worst state of egotism. It is being mad at the world. Nobody enjoys being that way. It is punishing oneself in order to evoke sympathy, but it never works. Nobody cares for a sour person. One feels more like kicking him if it were lawful to do so.

The opposite of this sullen disposition—a kindly temper turned toward the world. Such a disposition is worth a ton of gold. A man can do more business with it, make more friends, create more happiness and insure happier homes than he can with almost any other grace. The genial man is always welcome. He is like a flower, a streak of sunshine, the song of a bird—he is in harmony with the beauty and joy of all things.

YOUR MONEY will always catch a bargain here in reality. We have a large list; at the same time, we have lots of buyers. See us when you want to BUY OR SELL.

BIG PROFITS FOR BULLS, WHO HAVE MANIPULATED MAY COTTON.

PINCH PREDICTED IN JULY

123,500 Bales Taken Over in Deals.
Patten's Profits $160,000.

New York, April 30.—Profits very near $320,000 were shown today by careful calculation of the work of James A. Patten of Chicago and his associates in the great bull clique which has manipulated May cotton almost to the exclusion of everyone else, and victorious in deals for 200,000 bales, is now turning its attention to buying all of July cotton that is offered.

Patten's Profits $160,000.

Mr. Patten is believed to have carried in his own name about one-half of the May cotton handled by the bull crowd, and his individual profits were estimated today at approximately $160,000. The cotton was taken over at 14 5/8c, and today the price had risen to 14 3/4c, the closing price for May on the exchange.

The buying of July cotton by the bull crowd gave the shorts a shiver and the price for July was driven up from 14 1/2c when Patten and his associates began to buy, to 14 3/4c at the close of the market.

Pinch Predicted in July.

It was predicted in Wall street that the real pinch in cotton would be felt in July and the shorts were

Now our idea of it is different; we're here to see that you not only get something for your money, but to see that it's what you ought to get for it; to protect your interest in the matter of value. More than that we want to be of service to you in a different way than simply selling you goods.

We're here to provide what you want, and to help you get what you ought to want. We're here to see that what we sell you satisfies you; that the quality of our merchandise is right, and that you think it's right. FLOOD FEARED AT EL PASO

Rio Grande Situation Becoming Serious—Big Rise Coming—Preparations Made.

El Paso, Tex., April 30.—The river situation is fast becoming serious. The government observer reports 9-

000 second feet coming down at Selden, an increase of 6,000 feet. The stage here is already over 14 feet, and when the flood coming down reaches here it will raise it away above the danger line. Precautions are being taken here and down the valley against the flood.

making every effort to cover. The big four who are taking over the cotton are, besides Mr. Patten, Eugene Scales of Texas, William P. Brown and Frank Hayne of New Orleans. Mr. Hayne and Mr. Brown started the buying of July cotton at the opening of the cotton market today.

Disposition Is Serious Problem.

The way the street figures it is that the only question with which the bull crowd will have to deal at this time is how to get rid of the thousands of bales of May cotton purchased. About 50,000 bales were ordered shipped from New York warehouses yesterday, 40,000 South and 10,000 to Fall River mills. Today Mr. Patten announced that he had made arrangements to ship 45,000 bales to Great Britain at once, and he said that he expected the remaining 100,000 bales would be taken over by American and foreign spinners.

"They should have no difficulty getting hold of the cotton at a fair price," said Mr. Patten.

The charges on carrying the immense supplies of cotton amount to nearly $3,000 daily, and for this reason alone the bull clique will endeavor to dispose of their holdings at the earliest moment. These charges will be reduced from May 1, however, in view of the cotton already disposed of by Mr. Patten and his associates.

Purchased 183,500 Bales.

Reports by brokers show that a total of 183,500 bales of cotton were taken over by the Patten crowd. Carpenter, Baggott & Co., where Mr. Scales operates, took 50,000 bales; Bache & Co., Mr. Patten's headquarters, 40,000; Lipper & Co., 47,000; Swanson & Co., 25,000; Springs & Co., 10,000, and Hopkins, Knight & Co., 11,500. These firms are known as the principal brokers in the present operations of the pool.

Mr. Patten said today that he believed the new crop in October would prove shorter than had been anticipated.

Inez, the little niece of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Crowder gave to 21 of her little friends last Saturday evening a birthday party it being her tenth birthday. Her aunts, Mrs. J. C. Luster, of Davis, and Miss Eligh Fischer assisted in entertaining. The little guests came at 4 o'clock and played games until 5 when dainty refreshments were served in the spacious dining room. The decorations were

Kingston, Jamaica, May 1.—Nord
Alexis, former president of Haiti,
died here today. His death occurred at 8 o'clock in the morning following a brief illness. His health, however, had been considerably broken
by the experience of the last year
and a half after he was deposed and
sent into exile. He was a refugee
here since the revolution of 1908,
and was possessed of considerable
property in Kingston.

KANSAS CITY BOOSTERS WELL PLEASED WITH OKLA.

Like the Push and Elasticity of Oklahoma Citizenship and the Civic Pride.

Oklahoma City, May 1.—Oklahoma
City did itself proud in its entertainment of the Kansas City, Mo., trades
excursionists Wednesday, according to reports the Kansas City Star representative sent his paper. Following is an article published by the Star of the two hours' visit in Oklahoma City.

"Oklahoma City, the metropolis and
commercial center of a great state, wonderfully located and running over
with opportunities, entertained the Kansas City Commercial club delegation for two hours this morning.
"Twenty-one years ago it was a water tank station; today it claims a population of 60,000 and leads all cities in the United States in the percentage of building operations.
Several skyscrapers are completed
and there are under way several office buildings, a ten-story hotel, a modern newspaper office and two big
packing houses. The city has ninety miles of paved streets, several parks,
driveways and boulevards.

Many Widenwike Newspapers There.
"The Daily Oklahoman, the big
morning paper of the city and state,
is now in its new skyscraper. The two afternoon papers, the Times and
the News, are equipped with thoroughly modern offices. Oklahoma City
is proud of its newspapers, to which
is due much of the credit of exploiting the opportunities of the city. In Muskogee, Tulsa, Sapulpa and Shawnee splendid daily morning and afternoon newspapers are published.
The papers are prosperous and progressive.

"The Kansas City visitors were given a motor ride through the business and residence districts of Oklahoma City this morning. Practically everything is new, clean and attractive, and there isn't any city built on more modern lines. Residence additions have been planned as far as twelve miles out from the city limits. Oklahoma City is in the race
for the location of the state capital
and offers to build a railroad, more than one hundred miles long, tapping a new and undeveloped territory
if made the seat of state government.

Cities Believe in Civic Adornment
"One thing very noticeable about
the cities in Oklahoma is that they are not afraid to spend money for
public improvements, such as paving
the streets, beautifying the parks,
the public schools, sewers and water
plants. The people say they are pro-fitting by the experiences of Kansas City, that the best way to keep the cities growing is to keep beautifying them.

"The Kansas City special train passed through some of the richest
agricultural sections of the state to-
day. The towns of Wheatland, Mustang, Tuttle and Chickasha were visited this morning. Tuttle has grown to be a town of 1,500 people;
Chickasha is one of those modern,
progressive cities which in a few years has grown from a village to a real city. It has a population of 15,000, and the per cent of increase
is very large. The visitors spent more than an hour there and they saw
the signs of progressiveness, prosperity and push so much in evidence in the other cities visited on this trip."

JUDGE ROBERTSON TO SPEAK AT LAWTON

Lawton, Ok., May 1.—The first candidate for the democratic nomination
for governor, aside from Col. L. P.
Ross of this city, to appear before
a Lawton audience in the interests
of his candidacy during the present campaign will be Judge J. B. A.
Robertson of Chandler, former judge
of the Tenth Judicial District, comprising Lincoln and Pottawatomie
counties, who arrived here today
and who will deliver a political address in the city tomorrow night.
The Lincoln county candidate has
just completed a series of meetings
in Stephens and Jefferson counties,
and yesterday over the borders in Comanche a meeting was held at Temple and last night he spoke at Walter.

Recognition Is Tardy.

Guthrie, Ok., May 1.—George Morgan of Logan county is interested in the bill of Mr. McGuire to pension teamsters and wagon workers of the Civil war. These men were not enlisted, but counted as employees, but
were as necessary to success as any
soldier on the field. "I want to see
a state organization of these men,"
said Morgan, and would like to hear
from some of them on this subject.

PAROLE RECOMMENDED FOR BOOT-LEGGERS

Out on Good Behavior Tends to Restrain the Law Breakers.

Oklahoma City, May 1.—"We find
the policy of parole to convicted bootleggers the most effective means
of driving them out of the business,"
said Superintendent G. D. Conger of
the Oklahoma Anti-Saloon league
Saturday. "The aim of our organization is to suppress the sale of liquor. The means most effective in doing this is the one we propose to employ. And we believe parole accomplishes what the serving of the jail sentence, relief from which the
parole is granted, will not."

Most of the sentences to convicted
bootleggers of recent weeks have been a combination of fine and imprisonment. According to the idea of Superintendent Conger, the paying of the fine and the serving of
the sentence leaves the convicted
one, after all is through, open again
to start in his bootlegging business.

In the case of parole, on the other hand, the fine is paid, but the convicted one is allowed to go free upon the considerations provided by the parole. Rather than serve the jail sentence the bootlegger who is
out on parole invariably will go in-
to other business. Thereby the suppression which is the aim of the league
is brought about.

"Besides," said Mr. Conger, "the
parole imposes obligations more than
keeping away from the liquor trade.
It makes the convicted one subject
to arrest and the serving of the sentence which hangs over him on any breach of the law. If he is brought
with misdemeanor of any kind, or
in any way violates the statutes of
the state, immediately he is liable,
and may be made to serve his sentence. If he keeps from jail, he must be a good citizen."

Paroles are granted by the government upon recommendation from the county attorney from whose district
the sentence was made, from the
county or superior judge in whose
court the case was tried, and from the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league. Complaint that the one to whom the parole is granted is not
living up to the provisions of the
parole immediately bring forth its
recall, and the re-arrest of the one who is out on good behavior.

"Our efforts in the last few weeks
have been directed chiefly at the
shippers, the ones who are the foundation of the bootlegging business," said Mr. Conger. "Without the shipper, liquor selling cannot go on.
Ned Melton and Lee Smith, the shipping firm of Melton and Smith, were fined and given jail sentences last week. These men, paroled, must keep
away from the shipping business
forever, or be subject to their jail
penalty. Their case is only typical."

Route Picked Now to Be the National Route for Years to Come.

Lawton, Ok., April 30.—Traveling
129 miles today, the Chalmers-Detroit official pathfinder of the 1910 Gilden-tour, under command of Dai H. Lewis, reached Lawton at 7 o'clock and
tied up for the night.

The sixty miles on the Oklahoma
side of the Red River was covered at times at forty miles an hour. The car was met at Bowie, Tex., by five cars from Lawton, Oklahoma City,
Chickasha and El Reno. Tomorrow
the pathfinder will go to Oklahoma
City through Fort Sill, Anadarko,
Chickasha and El Reno. Chickasha
was placed on the route tonight, making the distance from Lawton to Oklahoma City nearly 150 miles, a good day's run. E. L. Ferguson of the American Automobile association
and Mr. Lewis held a conference
late tonight and agreed to make Lawton an all-night stop on the way
northward. They will leave Dallas, 200 miles to the south, in the morning. Mr. Ferguson said tonight that
the route picked out now would be
the national route for many years to come.

Lewis declares that Oklahoma natural prairie roads are the best of their type ever seen by him.

PROVISION FROM RAILROAD
BILL.

Regulars Censure Changes Progressives Made in Bill in House.

Washington, May 1.—Without waiting for it to be attacked in the senate further than the criticisms already offered in the Cummins-Dol-liver minority report, Senator Aldrich has decided that in view of "the
great criticism directed against the
stock and bond feature of the Administration bill" he will agree to striking out that feature. The criticism that has been directed against this feature of the bill has been in-
significant in comparison with the
bitter assault that has been made
in congress and over the country
against Section 7, which seeks to permit pooling agreements without
previous inspection or consent by the
interstate commerce commission, yet,
despite these intense oppositions to
this proposition, Senator Aldrich insists on its adoption, whereas he,
has become keenly sensitive and responsive to the criticisms of the stock and bond features.

Much Opposition to Feature.
There has been considerable opposition to the stock and bond provisions of the bill, but largely the
opposition is directed to specific provisions which could be modified. The democrats generally object to the provisions because they are so framed to deprive the states of the right to regulate the bonds and
stocks of railroads, while the congressmen representing "districts" or
states that need railroad development object to the feature of that provision which would require the sale
of the securities at face value, but
the financial interests are in opposition to the whole scheme as being
an entering wedge to the broad field
of federal supervision of stocks and
bonds.

The opposition of the railway interests to the feature is all the
stronger because the stampede in
the house to the scheme of physical
valuation of railroads, which is regarded as particularly objectionable
in connection with the proposed federal regulation of railway stocks and bonds.

Is Taft's Scheme.

The stock and bond provisions of the Administration railway bill was
not the creation of either Senator
Aldrich or Attorney General Wicke-
ham. It was a favorite scheme of President Taft's and was advocated
by him in his speeches and urged
as an essential to proper rate regulation. Senator Aldrich accepted the proposition as something to be looked after when the bill got under way, and the announcement that he will
not press that feature is not surprising after the temper that the house has shown in favor of drastic
regulation and the further evidence
that it has given that the conference report will have to be to its liking.

Friends of Senator Aldrich are seeking to fix on the Chief Executive
the responsibility for the overthrow
of the stocks and bonds feature of the bill, by pointing out that the president has not acted toward the insurgents with sufficient firmness
to prevent the house from breaking
from control on the railway bill to the extent that it has.

President Is Criticized.

The way for the announcement of
the surrender on the stock and bond
feature was paved by Senator Ald-
rich's friends Saturday, when they obtained wide circulation of a mild
criticism of President Taft for leaving Washington at this inopportune
time, when he should be on hand to hold down the radical republican element in the house. Republican newspapers that have not found occasion
to take exception to a single thing
done by the administration voiced
this criticism, and some of the democratic newspapers were caught by this reactionary plaint, the extensive publication of which was promptly
followed by the authoritative statement that Senator Aldrich, without sufficient aid from the Administration is unable to single-handed stem
the opposition to the stock and bond
feature and would not insist on the adoption of the provisions. The indications are that the House, when
it reaches the feature, will reject it.

here about 6:30 tonight. No serious damage was done. The hail followed

BRYAN REQUESTED LEAV- ITT TO WED DAUGHTER

Says the Former Son-in-Law—Bryan Makes a Denial in Regard to the Boast.

Columbus, O., April 30.—William
H. Leavitt gave out today the exact details of his story of Bryan's request that he, Leavitt, pay court to the daughter Ruth.
"I was painting portraits of notable people, and wrote to Mr. Bryan to get him to sit for me. He agreed
and I went to Fairview. The second day I was there I met Ruth as she was coming out of her room. She wore a white flower at her belt, I remember.

"Where are we going when we
leave here?" she asked me.
"Who is we?"
"You and I; whenever you go I am going."
"The next evening Mr. Bryan came
to me as we were sitting out on
the porch and said that his daughter had been talking to his wife and
himself and wanted to know if there were any reasons why I should not marry Ruth.

"I was a bit taken back I suppose.
I was somewhat flattered, but I managed to say that there was no reason why we should not be married. I stayed there from May to October when we were married. I have never been back.

"When we were married we went
for a short visit to St. Louis and then set up housekeeping in New Orleans. There Ruth was born. While living there my wife's grandfather
died and she asked me to go home.
When she returned she told me that
Mrs. Bryan had said that any time
she wished to get a divorce Mrs. Bryan would help her—that she had found a fine young Englishman she would like to have her marry.

"We left New Orleans on account
of yellow fever and moved to Denver at my wife's suggestion. It was there she met the man she is to marry. She can't get married any too soon to please me. I had no intention of stopping the ceremony unless that
had been necessary to get possession of the children.

"Whatever she may have done that
I cannot approve, I cannot forget.
That she is the mother of my children but in her new life I do not care to have them associated with her."

Bryan Makes Denial.
Lincoln, Neb., April 30.—A special dispatch says: "Please say for me regarding the boast of Mr. Leavitt that I asked him to wed my daughter
three days after he came into my
home as an artist that I do not regard a denial of such a statement from such a man as necessary. Signed
William J. Bryan."

Kindled Fire With Oil—Flames Sweep Through House in a Twinkling.

Sunday morning at seven-thirty the home of Bob Eaton, on West Thirteenth street caught on fire and burned down in something less than ten minutes. The fire department responded promptly to the alarm and made a splendid run, getting to the scene in time to prevent the fire spreading to other houses near by, but not in time to save Mr. Eaton's house.

How It Started.

The family were seated at breakfast and the fire in the cook stove having run low, Mrs. Eaton endeavored to quickly rekindle the fire by using coal oil. The oil when poured into the stove instantly exploded and caught more oil with the results mentioned.

Mr. Eaton's first impulse was to smother the flames by means of blankets and quilts; so he made a dash to the upper story for blankets at the same time instructing his wife to close the doors of the kitchen so as to confine the flames as much as possible to one portion of the house. But Mrs. Eaton either to badly excited or being repelled by the angry flames failed to do so and broke for the open. Consequently by the time Mr. Eaton reached the stairway on his return trip the flames had spread to such extent that he was compelled to fly back up the stairs and leap from an upper story window to save his life.

Practically nothing escaped the devouring flames so rapid was their work. In an attempt to save a piano, Mr. Hall, a normal student who was boarding there received a severe scorching about his head and face.

The high winds then prevailing seemed to delight in sweeping the flames as high and far as possible, and for a while it seemed that all the houses in reach would be wiped out despite the efforts of the fire department, and spectators who joined in the fight.

The Eaton home caught, the home on the north side of the street and opposite the fire was endangered by a burning shingle which ignited the roof, but owing to the alertness of the boys with the hose both the barn and the dwelling escaped disaster, with slight damage.

Mr. Brady's home which stands in close proximity to the Eaton place got very hot and was saved only by a copious supply of water repeatedly turned on it.

Mr. Eaton's loss is probably near the $2,500 mark some of which is covered by insurance.

COON USES GUN SATURDAY NIGHT

Takes Shot at John Cragen—Now in Jail in Default of Making $1,000 Bond.

About 12:15 o'clock Sunday night, a shot rang out from the Texas wagon yard. Upon investigation it was found that Foster Bogen, a negro, who is in the employ of Mr. Cummings at the yard had gotten into a row with a few white boys over the price or over the amount of whiskey to be purchased and the coon took a shot at John Cragen. The coon ran off and could not be found by the sheriff's force that night but was captured by the police on Monday morning.

The police transferred him to the sheriff this morning and on being arraigned he entered a plea of not guilty and his bond was fixed at $1,000 which he failed to make and was remanded to jail to await an examining trial which was set for Tuesday, by Justice Brown.

Died.

Mrs. Mary Robinson who resided on Seventh street, North Ada, died Sunday night at eleven o'clock, aged 41 years. On last Monday she was taken ill of pneumonia and survived just one week. She leaves a grown daughter and several small children to mourn her loss. The remains will be interred at Rosedale at five o'clock this afternoon, under the auspices of the Eastern Star.

To the family and friends the News extends sympathy.

The Oil Well.

The oil well was looked into this morning and it was found that the 44 quarts of nitro-glycerine failed to shake up any oil. There will probably be a meeting of the board of directors at an early date to determine whether work will be prosecuted further or not.

THE E. C. S. N. FACULTY TERM OF 1911-12

This Press in Saturday evening's issue published a special from Guthrie purporting to state the facts relative to the names of those members of the present faculty who had been re-elected for the second year. It stated that all the old faculty had been re-elected except Miss Overstreet. Excuse is felt for the publication, for the positive assertion that such was the case, was deliberately made after 30 minutes assured attention, at the hour of 4 o'clock P. M. Saturday by John L. Mitch, secretary to the State Board of Normal Regents.

The following is the correct list as has been verified by President Briles.

Charles W. Briles, president and philosophy of education; M. L. Perkins, vice president, psychology and education; Ralph J. Brooks, physics, chemistry and agriculture; G. T. Howerton, biology, geology and geography; Rolla G. Sears, history; E. E. Mathews, mathematics; W. D. Little, English; A. L. Fentem, economics and political science; W. L. Rodde, American history; Josephine Clark, Latin; J. Frank Lilly, German and assistant English; Pearl D. McGurkin, reading and public speaking; Carlotta Anderson, piano; Verna Van Wener, vocal music; Bertha Ruble, domestic science; Archie Lee Dixon, commercial branches; Kate K. Knight, critic teacher and assistant mathematician; Mary A. Montague, critic teacher; Helen A. Turner, drawing; Melissa Bills, matron; Trilla Bronner, librarian; and W. C. Cox, manual training and athletics.

While we extend a hearty welcome to the new teachers we very much regret seeing the others go and will express our regrets—and welcome in an article to follow at an early date.

Altus, Ok., April 30.—A special train from Elk City, carrying Hon. F. E. Herring, democratic candidate for governor; some 150 friends and admirers from Elk City, the Elk City band and about 100 followers picked up between Elk City and Altus, passed through Altus about 11 o'clock this morning, bound for Frederick, over the Wichita Falls and Northwestern road, where Mr. Herring spoke. The special returned to Altus at 4:15 p. m. and Mr. Herring delivered a speech from a platform on the public square to a crowd of several hundred. Mr. Herring explained that he was not a politician and therefore not a speechmaker. His talk was short and in it he did not attempt to take up at length the various political questions at issue in the state campaign.

BOOKS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN GOOD SHAPE

Guthrie, Okla., April 30.—The total receipts of the office of secretary of state from April 1, 1909, to March 30 1910, were $113,345.90 according to a report approved by State Examiner George Mekling. It shows that the total amount received from charter fees during the twelve months was $104,894.35, from notary fees, $4,358, and from the sale of statutes and session laws, $2,801.15. The remainder was received from the issuance of certified copies of records, placing the seal of state, requisitions, etc.

The books of the office were found in excellent shape. No account had been kept of statutes and session laws on hand and the report fixes a basis of accounting for this in the future.

BIG PROFITS FOR BULLS, WHO

COTTON.

128,500 Bales Taken Over in Deals.
Patten's Profits $160,000.

New York, April 30.—Profits very near $320,000 were shown today by careful calculation of the work of James A. Patten of Chicago and his associates in the great bull clique which has manipulated May cotton almost to the exclusion of everyone else, and victorious in deals for 200,000 bales, is now turning its attention to buying all of July cotton that is offered.

Patten's Profits $160,000.

Mr. Patten is believed to have carried in his own name about one-half of the May cotton handled by the bull crowd, and his individual profits were estimated today at approximately $160,000. The cotton was taken over at 14 5/8c, and today the price had risen to 14 7/8c, the closing price for May on the exchange.

The buying of July cotton by the bull crowd gave the shorts a shiver and the price for July was driven up from 14 1/2c when Patten and his associates began to buy, to 14 5/8c at the close of the market.

Pinch Predicted in July.

It was predicted in Wall street that the real pinch in cotton would be felt in July and the shorts were

Birthday Party.

Inez, the little niece of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Crowder gave to 21 of her little friends last Saturday evening a birthday party it being her tenth birthday. Her aunties, Mrs. J. C. Luster, of Davis, and Miss Eligh Fischer assisted in entertaining. The little guests came at 4 o'clock and played games until 5 when dainty refreshments were served in the spacious dining room. The decorations were roses and ferns. They then returned to the lawn where games were played until 6 o'clock when they took their departure saying they had a very pleasant time and wishing Inez would soon have another party. Many beautiful presents were received.

making every effort to cover. The big four who are taking over the cotton are, besides Mr. Patten, Eugene Scales of Texas, William P. Brown and Frank Hayne of New Orleans. Mr. Hayne and Mr. Brown started the buying of July cotton at the opening of the cotton market today.

Disposition Is Serious Problem.
The way the street figures it is that the only question with which the bull crowd will have to deal at this time is how to get rid of the thousands of bales of May cotton purchased. About 50,000 bales were ordered shipped from New York warehouses yesterday, 40,000 South and 10,000 to Fall River mills. Today Mr. Patten announced that he had made arrangements to ship 45,000 bales to Great Britain at once, and he said that he expected the remaining 100,000 bales would be taken over by American and foreign spinners.

"They should have no difficulty getting hold of the cotton at a fair price," said Mr. Patten.

The charges on carrying the immense supplies of cotton amount to nearly $3,000 daily, and for this reason alone the bull clique will endeavor to dispose of their holdings at the earliest moment. These charges will be reduced from May 1, however, in view of the cotton already disposed of by Mr. Patten and his associates.

Purchased 128,500 Bales.

Reports by brokers show that a total of 128,500 bales of cotton were taken over by the Patten crowd. Carpenter, Baggott & Co., where Mr. Scales operates, took 50,000 bales; Bache & Co., Mr. Patten's headquarters, 40,000; Lipper & Co., 47,000; Swanson & Co., 25,000; Springs & Co., 10,000, and Hopkins, Knight & Co., 11,500. These firms are known as the principal brokers in the present operations of the pool.

Mr. Patten said today that he believed the new crop in October would prove shorter than had been anticipated.

FORMER PRES. OF HAITI DEAD
REFUGEE SINCE 1908

Kingston, Jamaica, May 1.—Nord Alexis, former president of Haiti, died here today. His death occurred at 8 o'clock in the morning following a brief illness. His health, however, had been considerably broken by the experience of the last year and a half after he was deposed and sent into exile. He was a refugee here since the revolution of 1908, and was possessed of considerable property in Kingston.

KANSAS CITY BOOSTERS WELL PLEASED WITH OKLA.

Like the Push and Elasticity of Oklahoma Citizenship and the Civic Pride.

Oklahoma City, May 1.—Oklahoma City did itself proud in its entertainment of the Kansas City, Mo., trades excursionists Wednesday, according to reports the Kansas City Star representative sent his paper. Following is an article published by the Star of the two hours' visit in Oklahoma City.

"Oklahoma City, the metropolis and commercial center of a great state, wonderfully located and running over with opportunities, entertained the Kansas City Commercial club delegation for two hours this morning.

"Twenty-one years ago it was a water tank station; today it claims a population of 60,000 and leads all cities in the United States in the percentage of building operations. Several skyscrapers are completed and there are under way several office buildings, a ten-story hotel, a modern newspaper office and two big packing houses. The city has ninety miles of paved streets, several parks, driveways and boulevards.

Many Widenwake Newspapers There.

"The Daily Oklahoman, the big morning paper of the city and state, is now in its new skyscraper. The two afternoon papers, the Times and the News, are equipped with thoroughly modern offices. Oklahoma City is proud of its newspapers, to which is due much of the credit of exploiting the opportunities of the city. In Muskogee, Tulsa, Sapulpa and Shawnee splendid daily morning and afternoon newspapers are published. The papers are prosperous and progressive.

"The Kansas City visitors were given a motor ride through the business and residence districts of Oklahoma City this morning. Practically everything is new, clean and attractive, and there isn't any city built on more modern lines. Residence conditions have been planned as far as twelve miles out from the city limits. Oklahoma City is in the race for the location of the state capital and offers to build a railroad, more than one hundred miles long, tapping a new and undeveloped territory if made the seat of state government.

"One thing very noticeable about the cities in Oklahoma is that they are not afraid to spend money for public improvements, such as paving the streets, beautifying the parks, the public schools, sewers and water plants. The people say they are profiting by the experiences of Kansas City, that the best way to keep the cities growing is to keep beautifying them.

"The Kansas City special train passed through some of the richest agricultural sections of the state today. The towns of Wheatland, Mustang, Tuttle and Chickasha were visited this morning. Tuttle has grown to be a town of 1,500 people; Chickasha is one of those modern, progressive cities which in a few years has grown from a village to a real city. It has a population of 15,000, and the per cent of increase is very large. The visitors spent more than an hour there and they saw the signs of progressiveness, prosperity and push so much in evidence in the other cities visited on this trip."

Lawton, Ok., May 1.—The first candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, aside from Col. L. P. Ross of this city, to appear before a Lawton audience in the interests of his candidacy during the present campaign will be Judge J. B. A. Robertson of Chandler, former judge of the Tenth Judicial District, comprising Lincoln and Pottawatomie counties, who arrived here today and who will deliver a political address in the city tomorrow night.

The Lincoln county candidate has just completed a series of meetings in Stephens and Jefferson counties, and yesterday over the borders in Comanche a meeting was held at Temple and last night he spoke at Walter.

Recognition Is Tardy.

Guthrie, Ok., May 1.—George Morgan of Logan county is interested in the bill of Mr. McGuire to pension teamsters and wagon workers of the Civil war. These men were not enlisted, but counted as employees, but were as necessary to success as any soldier on the field. "I want to see a state organization of these men," said Morgan, and would like to hear from some of them on this subject.

PAROLE RECOMMENDED FOR BOOT-LEGGERS

Out on Good Behavior Tends to Restrain the Law Breakers.

Oklahoma City, May 1.—"We find the policy of parole to convicted bootleggers the most effective means of driving them out of the business," said Superintendent G. D. Conger of the Oklahoma Anti-Saloon league Saturday. "The aim of our organization is to suppress the sale of liquor. The means most effective in doing this is the one we propose to employ. And we believe parole accomplishes what the serving of the jail sentence, relief from which the parole is granted, will not."

Most of the sentences to convicted bootleggers of recent weeks have been a combination of fine and imprisonment. According to the idea of Superintendent Conger, the paying of the fine and the serving of the sentence leaves the convicted one, after all is through, open again to start in his bootlegging business.

In the case of parole, on the other hand, the fine is paid, but the convicted one is allowed to go free upon the considerations provided by the parole. Rather than serve the jail sentence the bootlegger who is out on parole invariably will go into other business. Thereby the suppression which is the aim of the league is brought about.

"Besides," said Mr. Conger, "the parole imposes obligations more than keeping away from the liquor trade. It makes the convicted one subject to arrest and the serving of the sentence which hangs over him on any breach of the law. If he is brought to police court, or if he is charged with misdemeanor of any kind, or in any way violates the statutes of the state, immediately he is liable, and may be made to serve his sentence. If he keeps from jail, he must be a good citizen."

Paroles are granted by the governor upon recommendation from the county attorney from whose district the sentence was made, from the county or superior judge in whose court the case was tried, and from the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league. Complaint that the one to whom the parole is granted is not living up to the provisions of the parole immediately bring forth its recall, and the re-arrest of the one who is out on good behavior.

"Our efforts in the last few weeks have been directed chiefly at the shippers, the ones who are the foundation of the bootlegging business," said Mr. Conger. "Without the shipper, liquor selling cannot go on. Ned Melton and Lee Smith, the shipping firm of Melton and Smith, were fined and given jail sentences last week. These men, paroled, must keep away from the shipping business forever, or be subject to their jail penalty. Their case is only typical."

Route Picked Now to Be the National Route for Years to Come.

Lawton, Ok., April 30.—Traveling 129 miles today, the Chalmers-Detroit official pathfinder of the 1910 Glidden tour, under command of Dai H. Lewis, reached Lawton at 7 o'clock and tied up for the night.

The sixty miles on the Oklahoma side of the Red River was covered at times at forty miles an hour. The car was met at Bowie, Tex., by five cars from Lawton, Oklahoma City, Chickasha and El Reno. Tomorrow the pathfinder will go to Oklahoma City through Fort Sill, Anadarko, Chickasha and El Reno. Chickasha was placed on the route tonight, making the distance from Lawton to Oklahoma City nearly 150 miles, a good day's run. E. L. Ferguson of the American Automobile association and Mr. Lewis held a conference late tonight and agreed to make Lawton an all-night stop on the way northward. They will leave Dallas, 200 miles to the south, in the morning. Mr. Ferguson said tonight that the route picked out now would be the national route for many years to come.

Lewis declares that Oklahoma natural prairie roads are the best of their type ever seen by him.

MAY STRIKE STOCK AND BOND PROVISION FROM RAILROAD BILL.

Regulars Censure Changes Progressives Made in Bill in House.

Washington, May 1.—Without waiting for it to be attacked in the senate further than the criticisms already offered in the Cummins-Dolliver minority report, Senator Aldrich has decided that in view of "the great criticism directed against the stock and bond feature of the Administration bill" he will agree to striking out that feature. The criticism that has been directed against this feature of the bill has been insignificant in comparison with the bitter assault that has been made in congress and over the country against Section 7, which seeks to permit pooling agreements without previous inspection or consent by the interstate commerce commission, yet, despite these intense oppositions to this proposition, Senator Aldrich insists on its adoption, whereas he, has become keenly sensitive and responsive to the criticisms of the stock and bond features.

Much Opposition to Feature.

There has been considerable opposition to the stock and bond provisions of the bill, but largely the opposition is directed to specific provisions which could be modified. The democrats generally object to the provisions because they are so framed to deprive the states of the right to regulate the bonds and stocks of railroads, while the congressmen representing "districts" or states that need railroad development object to the feature of that provision which would require the sale of the securities at face value, but the financial interests are in opposition to the whole scheme as being an entering wedge to the broad field of federal supervision of stocks and bonds.

The opposition of the railway interests to the feature is all the stronger because the stampede in the house to the scheme of physical valuation of railroads, which is regarded as particularly objectionable in connection with the proposed federal regulation of railway stocks and bonds.

Is Taft's Scheme.

The stock and bond provisions of the Administration railway bill was not the creation of either Senator Aldrich or Attorney General Wickensham. It was a favorite scheme of President Taft's and was advocated by him in his speeches and urged as an essential to proper rate regulation. Senator Aldrich accepted the proposition as something to be looked after when the bill got under way, and the announcement that he will not press that feature is not surprising after the temper that the house has shown in favor of drastic regulation and the further evidence that it has given that the conference report will have to be to its liking.

Friends of Senator Aldrich are seeking to fix on the Chief Executive the responsibility for the overthrow of the stocks and bonds feature of the bill, by pointing out that the president has not acted toward the insurgents with sufficient firmness to prevent the house from breaking from control on the railway bill to the extent that it has.

President Is Criticized.

The way for the announcement of the surrender on the stock and bond feature was paved by Senator Aldrich's friends Saturday, when they obtained wide circulation of a mild criticism of President Taft for leaving Washington at this inopportune time, when he should be on hand to hold down the radical republican element in the house. Republican newspapers that have not found occasion to take exception to a single thing done by the administration voiced this criticism, and some of the democratic newspapers were caught by this reactionary ploy, the extensive publication of which was promptly followed by the authoritative statement that Senator Aldrich, without sufficient aid from the Administration is unable to single-handed stem the opposition to the stock and bond feature and would not insist on the adoption of the provisions. The indications are that the House, when it reaches the feature, will reject it.

BRYAN REQUESTED LEAV.

ITT TO WED DAUGHTER

Says the Former Sen-in-Law—Bryan Makes a Denial in Regard to the Boast.

Columbus, O., April 30.—William H. Leavitt gave out today the exact details of his story of Bryan's request that he, Leavitt, pay court to the daughter Ruth.

"I was painting portraits of notable people, and wrote to Mr. Bryan to get him to sit for me. He agreed and I went to Fairview. The second day I was there I met Ruth as she was coming out of her room. She wore a white flower at her belt, I remember.

"Where are we going when we leave here?" she asked me.

"Who is we?"

"You and I; whenever you go I am going."

"The next evening Mr. Bryan came to me as we were sitting out on the porch and said that his daughter had been talking to his wife and himself and wanted to know if there were any reasons why I should not marry Ruth.

"I was a bit taken back I suppose. I was somewhat flattered, but I managed to say that there was no reason why we should not be married. I stayed there from May to October when we were married. I have never been back.

"When we were married we went for a short visit to St. Louis and then set up housekeeping in New Orleans. There Ruth was born. While living there my wife's grandfather died and she asked me to go home. When she returned she told me that Mrs. Bryan had said that any time she wished to get a divorce Mrs. Bryan would help her—that she had found a fine young Englishman she would like to have her marry.

"We left New Orleans on account of yellow fever and moved to Denver at my wife's suggestion. It was there she met the man she is to marry. She can't get married any too soon to please me. I had no intention of stopping the ceremony unless that had been necessary to get possession of the children.

"Whatever she may have done that I cannot approve, I cannot forget, that she is the mother of my children but in her new life I do not care to have them associated with her."

Bryan Makes Denial.

Lincoln, Neb., April 30.—A special dispatch says: "Please say for me regarding the boast of Mr. Leavitt that I asked him to wed my daughter three days after he came into my home as an artist that I do not regard a denial of such a statement from such a man as necessary. Signed William J. Bryan."

Kindled Fire With Oil—Flames Sweep Through House in a Twinkling.

Sunday morning at seven-thirty the home of Bob Eaton, on West Thirteenth street caught on fire and burned down in something less than ten minutes. The fire department responded promptly to the alarm and made a splendid run, getting to the scene in time to prevent the fire spreading to other houses near by, but not in time to save Mr. Eaton's house.

How It Started.

The family were seated at breakfast and the fire in the cook stove having run low, Mrs. Eaton endeavored to quickly rekindle the fire by using coal oil. The oil when poured into the stove instantly exploded and caught more oil with the results mentioned.

Mr. Eaton's first impulse was to smother the flames by means of blankets and quilts; so he made a dash to the upper story for blankets at the same time instructing his wife to close the doors of the kitchen so as to confine the flames as much as possible to one portion of the house. But Mrs. Eaton either badly excited or being repelled by the angry flames failed to do so and broke for the open. Consequently by the time Mr. Eaton reached the stairway on his return trip the flames had spread to such extent that he was compelled to fly back up the stairs and leap from an upper story window to save his life.

Practically nothing escaped the devouring flames so rapid was their work. In an attempt to save a piano, Mr. Hall, a normal student who was boarding there received a severe scorching about his head and face.

The high winds then prevailing seemed to delight in sweeping the flames as high and far as possible.

While it seemed that all the houses in reach would be wiped out despite the efforts of the fire department, and spectators who joined in the fight. The barn on the rear of the Eaton home caught, the home on the north side of the street and opposite the fire was endangered by a burning shingle which ignited the roof, but owing to the alertness of the boys with the hose both the barn and the dwelling escaped disaster, with slight damage.

Mr. Brady's home which stands in close proximity to the Eaton place got very hot and was saved only by a copious supply of water repeatedly turned on it.

Mr. Eaton's loss is probably near the $2,500 mark some of which is covered by insurance.

COON USES GUN SATURDAY NIGHT

Takes Shot at John Cragen—Now in Jail in Default of Making $1,000 Bond.

About 12:15 o'clock Sunday night, a shot rang out from the Texas wagon yard. Upon investigation it was found that Foster Bogen, a negro, who is in the employ of Mr. Cummings at the yard had gotten into a row with a few white boys over the price or over the amount of whiskey to be purchased and the coon took a shot at John Cragen. The coon ran off and could not be found by the sheriff's force that night but was captured by the police on Monday morning.

The police transferred him to the sheriff this morning and on being arraigned he entered a plea of not guilty and his bond was fixed at $1,000 which he failed to make and was remanded to jail to await an examining trial which was set for Tuesday, by Justice Brown.

Died.

Mrs. Mary Robinson who resided on Seventh street, North Ada, died Sunday night at eleven o'clock, aged 41 years. On last Monday she was taken ill of pneumonia and survived just one week. She leaves a grown daughter and several small children to mourn her loss. The remains will be interred at Rosedale at five o'clock this afternoon, under the auspices of the Eastern Star.

To the family and friends the News extends sympathy.

The Oil Well.

The oil well was looked into this morning and it was found that the 44 quarts of nitro-glycerine failed to shake up any oil. There will probably be a meeting of the board of directors at an early date to determine whether work will be prosecuted further or not.

THE E. C. S. N. FACULTY TERM OF 1911-12

This Press in Saturday evening's issue published a special from Guthrie purporting to state the facts relative to the names of those members of the present faculty who had been re-elected for the second year. It stated that all the old faculty had been re-elected except Miss Overstreet. Excuse is felt for the publication, for the positive assertion that such was the case, was deliberately made after 30 minutes assured attention, at the hour of 4 o'clock P. M. Saturday by John L. Mitch, secretary to the State Board of Normal Regents.

The following is the correct list as has been verified by President Briles.

Charles W. Briles, president and philosophy of education; M. L. Perkins, vice president, psychology and education; Ralph J. Brooks, physics, chemistry and agriculture; G. T. Howerton, biology, geology and geography; Rolla G. Sears, history; E. E. Mathews, mathematics; W. D. Little, English; A. L. Fentem, economics and political science; W. L. Roddie, American history; Josephine Clark, Latin; J. Frank Lilly, German and assistant English; Pearl D. McGurran, reading and public speaking; Carlotta Anderson, piano; Verna Van Werp, vocal music; Bertha Ruble, domestic science; Arche Lee Dixon, commercial branches, Kate K. Knight, critic teacher and assistant mathematician; Mary A. Montague, critic teacher; Helen A. Turner, drawing; Melissa Bills, matron; Trilla Bronner, librarian; and W. C. Cox, manual training and athletics.

While we extend a hearty welcome to the new teachers we very much regret seeing the others go and will express our regrets—and welcome in an article to follow at an early date.

HON. F. E. HERRING AT FREDERICK AND ALTUS

Altus, Ok., April 30.—A special train from Elk City, carrying Hon. F. E. Herring, democratic candidate for governor; some 150 friends and admirers from Elk City, the Elk City band and about 100 followers picked up between Elk City and Altus, passed through Altus about 11 o'clock this morning, bound for Frederick, over the Wichita Falls and North-western road, where Mr. Herring spoke. The special returned to Altus at 4:15 p. m. and Mr. Herring delivered a speech from a platform on the public square to a crowd of several hundred. Mr. Herring explained that he was not a politician and therefore not a speechmaker. His talk was short and in it he did not attempt to take up at length the various political questions at issue in the state campaign.

BOOKS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN GOOD SHAPE

Guthrie, Okla., April 30.—The total receipts of the office of secretary of state from April 1, 1909, to March 30, 1910, were $113,345.50 according to a report approved by State Examiner George Mekling. It shows that the total amount received from charter fees during the twelve months was $104,394.35, from notary fees, $4,358, and from the sale of statutes and session laws, $2,801.15. The remainder was received from the issuance of certified copies of records, placing the seal of state, requisitions, etc.

The books of the office were found in excellent shape. No account had been kept of statutes and session laws on hand and the report fixes a basis of accounting for this in the future.

CANNON STILL DOMINATES COMMITTEE ON RULES

Delay of Postal Savings Bill Provokes Unrest in Regulars' Ranks.

Washington, April 30.—Undaunted by the hopelessness of the prospect, Representative Howard M. Snapp of Illinois today offered a resolution providing for the taking of the postal savings bank bill out of the committee and bringing it before the House. The resolution goes to the committee on Rules, which is still dominated by Speaker Cannon. It stands as little show of being reported out of the committee on rules as the postal savings bank bill itself stands a show of being reported out of the committee on post-offices and post roads before Speaker Cannon is ready for such action.

The resolution is of interest as showing an extension of the unrest to some of the so-called "regulars" to which Representative Snapp belongs, over the impotency of members of the house to prosecute legislation when a majority of a committee is interested in blocking it. To remedy such a state of affairs Hamilton Fish, who fought Speaker Cannon in the recent contest over the rules, has introduced a resolution calling on the Rules Committee to report a new rule where by the House, by a vote, may instruct a committee to return to the house a bill without recommendation, when the committee has had possession of such a bill for fifty days. The Fish resolution also went to the committee on rules.
